Extend Your Professional Credibility at the Canadian Technical Security Conference

The dates for the 17th (aka 20th) Canadian Technical Security Conference (CTSC) have been set for Tuesday, May 06, 2025, through Thursday, May 08, 2025.

Consumer level and commercial technological developments are converging at a tremendous pace, opening up new possibilities for technical security professionals and at the same time, a wide variety of technological threats are also emerging, creating new challenges.

These new threats can compromise technical security and place tremendous demands on and pose significant challenges to the physical infrastructure and the information technology architecture.

Technical security professionals, at all operational threat levels, from private individuals, small businesses, corporate security directors, governments and military operators need to be informed and prepared, not only in Canada, but around the globe. This is why you need to be a part of the exclusive group of technical security practitioners and industry support professionals at CTSC 2025.

CTSC 2025 is a not to be missed three (3) day professional development opportunity. In addition to learning about current threats and countermeasures, you will be able to network with other practitioners and gain familiarity with the latest products from key industry vendors.

Plan now to attend, present, demonstrate, exhibit, network and compete in our "Bug-Off", attend hospitality night, enjoy the keynote speaker at our always entertaining casual Dinner and Awards night, learn something new, see what is new on the horizon and extend your professional credibility with renewed knowledge and hands on experience.

This is all happening at the Banff Centre for Professional Development

Our three (3) day professional development and networking, all inclusive conference and tradeshow event, provides excellent value, realizes maximized training benefits and enhances your professional credibility.

We are pleased to confirm that the 17th (aka 20th) Canadian Technical Security Conference (CTSC 2025) will be hosted in Banff Alberta Canada

Conference Overview

CTSC 2025 is a unique three (3) day, professional development and networking opportunity that features a TSCM focused learning experience delivered by industry leading technical operators.

Participant Benefits

- ◆ Broaden your understanding of the technical security field.
- ◆ Refine your skills with the only Canadian organization to offer standards based certification training, ethics and best practices in the field and the boardroom.
- ◆ Network with other technical security specialists and become part of a growing network of industry and tradecraft professionals.
- ◆ Update your skills and knowledge of TSCM capabilities and the latest vulnerabilities.
- ◆ Receive a professional development certificate, for those who attend the required number of training sessions. CTSC certificates are recognized by professional associations, such as the American Society of Industrial Security (ASIS), as continuing education credits against the CPP® and other similar designations.

Presenter Benefits

- ◆ Enjoy the satisfaction of imparting your technical security knowledge to a group of interested people and contribute to the overall industry knowledge base.
- ◆ Through interactions with other experts, broaden your horizons and gain new business prospects and opportunities.

- ◆ Update your knowledge of TSCM technology and equipment capabilities.

Offer to share your extensive experience and knowledge with your peers by submitting a presentation proposal for the 17th (aka 20th) Canadian Technical Security Conference.

Exhibitor Benefits

The exhibit space is strategically co-located near the presenter area and provides an opportunity to:

- ◆ Market your products and services while interacting with the industry experts that utilize your products and services in the field.
- ◆ Contribute to the overall sustainability and success of the technical security industry.
- ◆ Become eligible for industry awards and recognition.
